Sprawling Latin Nation Takes Key Political-Economic Vote crushed. For a few months, the Bolivar countryman will be working out its political problems, and the people will have some 207 million dollars to spend. That's a "practical" way of looking at things. And now, at the end of the year, we have the chance to see how the government is doing.

The nation has a foreign debt of around 18 billion, a balance of payments deficit of around 4 billion, and a commercial deficit of around 6 billion. The government is spending more than it is earning, and the deficit is going to be worse in the next few years. The country is in a state of emergency, and the government is doing nothing to improve the situation.
